

California Department of Justice
Office of the Attorney General

Public Rights Division, Energy Task Force

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The Energy Task Force is investigating and litigating issues involving the electricity and natural gas market in California. These issues are addressed in the context of investigation and litigation of antitrust and unfair business practices, regulatory proceedings before the California Public Utilities Commission and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, and examination of energy policy and energy generation practices.

Student interns will assist with reviewing and analyzing documents produced pursuant to investigatory subpoenas. Student interns will also have the opportunity to work with Deputy Attorneys General and experts in the preparation of documents to be used in civil investigation and litigation.

The Energy Task Force has positions open in Sacramento and San Francisco for work-study and volunteer student interns throughout the school year and summer. Students interested in the Work-Study Program should consult their school's Financial Aid office to determine program eligibility.

The student interns will be required to work approximately 15-20 hours per week. Hours are flexible and can be adjusted as appropriate. A security clearance will be required prior to acceptance of any candidate.

HOW TO APPLY
